Small Actions, Big Impact

① In Japan, people are taking some actions to solve environmental problems. For example, many people bring their shopping bags when they go shopping, so they do not have to use plastic shopping bags at stores. Also, some people bring their bottles to coffee shops instead of using plastic cups. These actions are small, ア (and / but) they can help reduce plastic waste. One person's action イ (may / should) be small, but ウ (how / if) many people * act together, it can have a big influence on the earth. Our daily choices are very (エ) for the future of the earth.

* act together : 一緒に行動する
